

The Certified Home, LLC - Experience Makes the Difference

NEW Inspection Procedures

In an effort to promote safety in everything we do, The Certified Home will immediately implement the use of N95 masks and disinfected gloves at all times when working inside any home or building. This step is an effort to give sellers and buyers the confidence that our inspections will maintain clean environments. If we each do our part to keep one another safe, we can all continue moving forward with confidence.

What We Do Best

The Certified Home has always promoted the concept of a focused inspection to create the most thorough reports, and to achieve this goal, we have always asked to be allowed to conduct the inspection portion of the work without interruption. Our business practices, focused inspections, and thorough reports allow the buyers to have confidence that they do not need to be present during the inspection part of the work. They only need to meet briefly (preferably outside) to review the findings. With the digital pictures we take, the use of a drone to get above every structure, and the depth of our detailed reports, a brief meeting to summarize findings can help everyone continue to practice the recommended social distancing.

Leading the Way

In these difficult times, agents, sellers, and buyers need confidence in the process. We want everyone to know that we understand their concerns, and that we are leading the way with best practices and adapting to the current environment to keep everyone safe.

Stay safe and healthy,

The Certified Home.
